EQUALITY PLAN GONE

INDIANA JOBBERS ABANDON THE SUGAR SELLING SCHEME.

Chicago Jobbers Backed Out-Trust in "Cahoots" with Democracy.

sale grocers of Indiana on account of the collapse of the equality plan of selling sugar which has been built up in the past eight months, so that after years of unprofitable handling, as their testimony goes, they were in a way to come out clear on sugar. Under the equality plan the jobbers realized that there was a profit of 3-16 of a cent on every pound that the scale showed as the barrels were rolled on the drays, freight and drayage added. This threethe form of a rebate, so that there was no uncertainty about it, and the jobber was happy. The salesman who made the sale was happy because he knew that he could not be "scooped" on that deal, as every one sold perforce at the same price, and he could not be undercut to get trade. The retailer was happy because he knew that there was no competition in prices of sugar, and that it was as cheap to buy of him as any one else. All this state of cago dealers who found it was irksome to have prices dictated to the wholesalers of such a city by anybody. It was beneath their dignity, and after a period lasting from April to Oct. 8 they kicked out of the compact. The equality plan made no difference to the consumer, who was and is entirely at the mercy of the Sugar Trust, ever to charge "all that the trade will bear." As a matter of fact, the price of sugar fell to its lowest point in New York on June 1, when it sold for $4 a hundred. After the passage of the Sugar Trust bill the price was raised to $4.87, and it is now $4.62. The control of the trust, which was Ladles can be successfully treated by so strong as to dictate the terms of the mail by sending this advertisement and 6 tariff law, which became, on unquestioned cents for postage and receive the Madame's authority, a matter of party perfidy and party dishonor, was far too strong to be affected by the association of the wholesalers of a State or any number of States, so that its fine Italian hand does not appear in the collapse of the equality scheme in this State. But local jobbers say that the ways of the trust are past finding out, and that if the Chicago jobbers were influenced by the trust there would be no way of discovering the fact. But there is no apparent reason why the trust should care whether the equality plan prevails or not. It has absolute control of things.

"There is absolutely no limit to the power of the Sugar Trust," said a prominent er of the Sugar Trust," said a prominent grocer yesterday to the Journal reporter. "For a time after Congress adjourned, with the Sugar Trust law on the statute books, sugar went up sky-ting, and consumers who had been receiving twenty-two pounds for a dollar, were not able to get more than sixteen or seventeen for their money. But this began to make so apparent the public wrong of the new law that there was great danger to the party that shared in the dishonor and perfidy of the bill. For some reason, which only the leaders of the Democratic party and the Havemyer interests know, there has quite recently been a decine in the price of sugar. The decline to the consumer has been much more than was warranted, or still is warranted, by the decline in the price of raw ranted, by the decline in the price of raw sugars. Consumers may expect to be well treated in the reduced prices until after the election, and then there will be a rise in the price of sugar that will open their eyes to the ways that are dark and tricks that are value in the Character That that are vain in the Sugar Trust. The trust has it in its power to punish its enemies and reward its friends, as well as to purchase future favor. There is no doubt in my mind that the Democratic leaders have arranged with the trust managers to reduce the price of sugar until after the election. The fall in price to the consumer can be explained no other way. If there was any hesitancy in the trust in making such an arrangement, all the in making such an arrangement, all the Democratic leaders would have to do to gain their point would be to say to Have-myer that if their request was not granted the next session of Congress would be able to cause him a great deal of trouble. It the Democrats have not made use of their power to compel the trust to do that much for the party that suffered it to dictate the bill that was passed they have not lived up to their record for this kind of influence. The trust can make a still greater cut without entrenching upon the safe margin of the profit in the manufacture of sugar. The markets of sugar for the next six weeks will be interesting. The trust is in cahoots with the Democratic party as sure as the sun rises. Men have been hung on evidence less circum-stantial and conclusive than there is to support this statement.' The Indiana Wholesale Grocers' Association had a secret two days' meeting last week, which was strictly not for publication. The collapse was there formally acknowledged and the cherished plan became no more. This meant the old way of making collections by salesmen, and meant various other things that the jobber did not like. His certain profit of three-six-teenths tumbled to the ground, and their only hold on the trust was broken. The State association and the city association, which met Thursday, will still retain their organization, but there is no likelihood now of the equality plan being revived at present. There is encouragement in the fact, the jobbers say, that in Illinois the jobbers have organized without Chicago, and while they are actually selling now at a loss, they expect to profit in the uitimate gain. It is said that the same result would fol-low in Indiana if it were adopted.

Death at the Hospital. James L. Dickinson, an inmate at the City Hospital, became imbued with the idea. yesterday morning about 3 o'clock, that he was a prisoner. After making a rope of the bed clothing, he tied it to a third-story window and started to lower himself. He was seventy years old, and being weak and infirm his strength gave out and he fell to the stone pavement below. He was picked up in an unconscious condition by employes a short time afterward and carried to his room. His injuries were fatal, and he died yesterday afternoon. Coroner Beck took his post-mortem statement. Dickin-son was a sufferer from senile dementia. His home was at No. 79 Sanders street. The hospital physicians say that he was not a prisoner, and that ne could have walked out whenever he pleased.

IN HONOR OF THE DEAD

THIRTEENTH WARD REPUBLICANS ADOPT A FEELING TRIBUTE.

A Man Whose Walk Was that of Nearness to the Shore His Spirit Has Sought-The Funeral.

The Republican citizens of the Thirteenth ward met last night at their club room for the purpose of formulating an expression of their sorrow at the death of Aurelius J. Joyce. The meeting was called to order by Mr. W. D. Wilson, president of the club, and a committee consisting of George W. Galvin, Ezra M. Fisher and S. D. Noel was appointed to report a fitting expression. Their report was unanimously adopted, as follows: Whereas, An allwise Being in the pleni-tude of His wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst one whom we have heretofore delighted to honor, in the death of Aurelius J. Joyce, and

Whereas, In this calling away we have met with a loss not alone of an esteemed and loved fellow-citizen, but an honored political leader in the hour of his greatest activity, therefore, be it Resolved, That in the death of Aurelius J. Joyce we have suffered a loss irreparable to us as citizens of the South Side, neighbors and friends. That we knew him but to esteem and found him ever kindly true and sincere. Just in all his ways and full of Christian sentiment, his walk was that of nearness to the shore his spirit has sought. And be it further Resolved. That we extend to his bereaved ones the love and sympathy of all our hearts. "GEORGE W. GALVIN, EZRA M. FISHER, S. D. NOEL,

Speeches of deep feeling and high eulogium were made by Alfred Hovey, J. N. Harding, Alfred Glossbrenner, S. H. Spooner and others. The meeting was pervaded by a spirit that told more plainly than words that a sincere sorrow was felt at the loss the club and a wide circle of friends had suffered. The club unanimously adopted the following tribute

"Whereas, The members of the Marion Club having learned with feelings of profound sorrow of the death of our brother and fellow-member, Aurelius J. Joyce, and, "Whereas. We recognize in his departure that we have lost from among us one who in his intimate relations and associations with the members of this club had enwith the members of this club had en-deared himself to all, and. "Whereas, We deem it timely and fitting that his services in the cause of the organization and Republicanism in general should receive appropriate recognition, and that the lofty Christian character and purity of his life should be held in living remembrance by his fellow-men; therefore,

"Resolved, That the members of this organization extend to the bereaved family and sorrowing friends of the deceased the assurance that in their hour of affliction our hearts go out to them with deepest sympathy, and with the hope that they will be comforted and sustained by Him who gave and who has seen fit to take away. Be it further

The students of DePauw University recently enjoyed a coincidence of language that was unusual. Dr. John, the president, was addressing them at the morning exercises, and had remarked that the university was to be congratulated upon the advent of the largest freshman class that the school had ever known. Turning from this idea to the Bible, which lay open be-fore him ready for the morning's holy lesson, he started to read the Psalm which begins thus: "Lord, how are they increased that trouble me," etc. The freshmen pres-ent blushed and the rest smiled an audible

That desk sergeant Doss Shafer is witty has been a long-established fact at the police station. The other night about 10:20 o'clock he was busily engaged answering a number of calls, all of which were from the detectives. After the rush was over he turned to those near and said: "I know the theaters are out.'

"Why?" asked Captain Quigley.
"Oh, because," said the desk sergeant,
"the detectives are calling up."

"They do things different in Kentucky from us" said City Clerk Nixon, yesterday, "In Louisville the people elect their jailers, and the Republicans claim they will elect their candidate, a man named Dick Watts. There is an organization in the city known as the 'Contrary Club.' It is composed of Democrats who avow their intention of supporting Watts. The organization has a membership of several hundred, and each member wears a lapel button, upon which is a picture of Watts and the words, 'Contrary Club.'
